WHAT THE RESEARCH SAYS ABOUT LEARNING BAGS

Twenty-first century learners are required to think critically about the world, collaborate and communicate with their peers, and solve complex problems, all while building literacy skills that will allow them to succeed inside and outside the classroom. Yet, they are constantly distracted by the overload of stimuli in their environments. With so many competing interests and so much to do all the time, how can we motivate our students to learn at home, especially during the summer, and engage them in meaningful but fun learning experiences?

The answer can be found with Catapult Learning's Reading and Activity Bags, which can contribute significantly to students' motivation and literacy skills. Each of our Learning Bags has been intentionally curated to promote effective at-home literacy support with engaging, creative, and interactive texts and resources. With every page and every activity, students are provided an opportunity to stretch their reading abilities and experience the pleasure of fluent reading, as well as engage in hands-on exploratory learning connected to the real world. While the Reading Bags reflect a wide range of reading levels and interests, and support students in improving their literacy skills, the Activity Bags support inquiry-based learning and help students learn by doing. Our Learning Bags also help families better understand what their children are learning in school and how they can support those approaches, thereby enhancing the relationship between the family and school.

Catapult Learning's Reading and Activity Bags also offer these added benefits:

- Establish a regular family reading routine and help families set aside a few minutes of learning each day, whether after school or during the summer
- Allow all families, regardless of their culture, education level, or English language proficiency, to feel that they are directly involved in their child's learning
- Provide parents with a structure and model for reading and playing with their children
- Engage children, young and old, in interactive reading and learning that ignites their enthusiasm and sparks their curiosity
- Build an awareness of the breadth of books and activities that exist across content areas and grade bands
- Show parents how to help their children connect what they read in books and what they learn in class to what is happening in the world around them
- Stimulate discussions between children and their families

This year, our catalog features over 20 themes across content areas and grades K-12. We are confident that no matter who your students are, you will find a Reading or Activity Bag that meets their specific needs and motivates them to develop the habits of lifelong readers and learners.

STUDENT LEARNING BAGS

Learnings Bags are a cost-effective way to supply students with engaging resources that keep them captivated and ready to learn, all in a convenient carrying bag. Bags are available in a variety of styles, themes, colors, and sizes, and are tailored to students' learning needs and interests.

READING BAGS

Our Reading Bags motivate students to read for pleasure while building their literacy and comprehension skills. Comprised of a set of high-interest books that expose students to real-world topics, each Reading Bag is designed to spark students' curiosity and help them become proficient and fluent readers.

ACTIVITY BAGS

Designed to engage students through exploratory learning, Activity Bags introduce students to a variety of inquiry-based texts, games, and activities that are fun for the entire family! Activity Bags build students' literacy in a range of topics, including STEM, math, and reading, and include flash cards, activity sets and books, electronic games, and building blocks, to name a few.

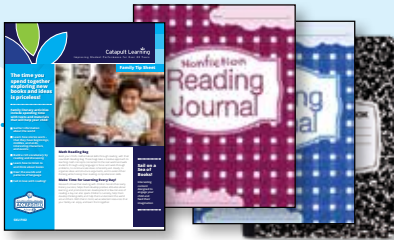

Free BONUS Pack!

Each Learning Bag includes a free Bonus Pack with:

Family Tip Sheet – A colorful insert that provides helpful tips and strategies for building literacy skills and engaging students in learning at home.

Student Journals – Workbooks that guide students through the close-reading process, help them derive meaning from informational and literary texts, teach them how to think critically, and develop their core reading comprehension skills.

LENDING LIBRARIES

Provide students, teachers, and staff with access to books and academic resources they can use within the school building and check out to complete assignments at home. Catapult Learning will work with you to design a library tailored to your school's specific goals—leading you through design, ordering materials, set-up, and the organization of check-in and check-out procedures.

STUDENT LIBRARIES

Provide your students with a diverse set of reading materials to enrich their learning experiences inside and outside the classroom. Student Libraries encourage individual and collaborative exploration, and support a wide range of interests and literacy needs across grade levels and ages.

Student Reading Libraries

Create an inviting student library that facilitates peer collaboration in the classroom and encourages each child to read for interest. Student Reading Libraries are a fun and effective way to engage your students in cooperative learning through shared or small-group reading, and they can hone your students' comprehension, speaking and listening, and conversational skills. To build your student library, you may:

- order multiple copies of the texts and resources in one theme
- combine different themes featured in this catalog
- work with our academic experts to customize a library

Student Lending Libraries

Enable your students to borrow a wide range of texts and resources they may need to support their understanding of core subjects, or materials that help them develop their specific interests. Students can check books in and out to complete assignments and to achieve individual reading goals, or they may choose texts that motivate them to read and develop their habits as lifelong readers and learners.

TEACHER LENDING LIBRARIES

Ensure that teachers have access to industry best practices and up-to-date learning resources with our Teacher Lending Libraries. These libraries provide teachers with resources and tools that build their capacity in specific content areas and enhance their pedagogical expertise. The result is teachers who are willing to try new approaches in their classrooms to improve the quality of teaching and increase student achievement.

Title I Lending Libraries

Resources in Title I libraries feature relevant and targeted topics that support the instruction of Title I students across content areas. Topics include differentiated instruction, best practices for instructional intervention in reading and math, and more.

Title IIA Lending Libraries

Professional resources in Title IIA libraries address topics of interest and relevance to teachers in all core subjects, as well as to instructional coaches and school and district leaders. Topics include leadership, instructional best practices, effective feedback, STEM, and more.

How Lending Libraries Work:

- Materials are ordered from organizations/publishers such as Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development (ascd.org), Bureau of Education and Research (ber.org), LDOnline.org, Stenhouse Publishers, and Sundance Publishers.
- The Lending Library is set up at a designated school-based location.
- Catapult Learning works with district and school leadership to set up check-in/out procedures.
