Extended Learning Program invites your student to continue the learning that starts in the classroom. Sessions are designed to include a holistic experience for students composed of targeted math and literacy instruction activities to encourage personal growth in a collaborative virtual classroom. Visit the student registration page for scheduling information!

Program Components

Core Academics

Students will develop the tools and confidence to grapple with grade-level math and literacy skills using familiar and new strategies.

Social-Emotional Support

Teachers will lead students through activities that identify and foster healthy habits.

Parent Engagement

All parents of students enrolled in Extended Learning Program are invited to attend free virtual parent workshops. These focus on timely and relevant topics like Digital Citizenship and Parenting Through Adversity.

Keys to Success

1

Small-Group Experience:

With fewer than ten students in a group, Extended Learning Program teachers are able to provide individualized attention and students can really collaborate with peers.

2

Integrated Instruction:

The scope and sequence for math and literacy is designed to work in sync with classroom instruction.

3

Funded by federal, grant, and donor dollars:

This exciting opportunity is available to your student free of charge to you!

“ I was not home often when my son was in class, but on the days that I worked from home, I can see and hear that my son and the students were receiving quality instruction. I can see that he felt included because he showed excitement when participating and he appeared to be contributing to the discussions. I thank the Archdiocese of NY for the opportunity. ”
